“ Dale had only become a friend in the last 10 or 12 years but I wish I had known him much longer. Even as his illness progressed , Dale always had a new idea a minute and was able to put a lot of them into action.
Most significantly, he was able to focus his later endeavors on things he loved - music , music , and music . He was a fighter because he still had things he wanted to do . R.I.P.

“ My Family moved next door to the Rabiners when I was in the sixth grade. Having discovered the force of Nature that was Dale, my life was not to be the same. Dale was into everything, very few things escaped his interest. To my great benefit one of his serious interests was music. Dale's basement was a treasure trove of everything a budding rock and roller could wish for. We were in our first band together, The Court Jesters. I still have a card, designed of course by Dale, a shocking pink paper stock with raised gold Old English type. He said it would "stand out". That is the way he thought.

Had I not known Dale at that particular time I may not have developed a life long relationship with the guitar, singing and music in general . We all start somewhere and for me it was the Rabiner's basement with the space to figure "all that stuff out". I am and will always be grateful.

One of the smartest people I'll ever have the privilege of knowing.

Somewhere up there is a "Where Left is Right" guitar waiting, Fly on, Brother Dale, rest in Peace .

“ Dear Margaret and family,
I am so terribly sorry to receive this news. Years ago Dale and I were friends and comrades in various causes in Cincinnati. I have missed him in recent years and extend my sincere sympathy to all of you.

“ I had the privilege of working with/for Dale from 1991-1995 as a bond trader at Bartlett & Co. in the Fixed Income Department (FIG). He was a brilliant and gentle and generous man - a mensch. He will surely be missed. Laura and I send our heartfelt condolences. May his name be for a blessing.

“ I was only able to care for Dale for a short time but I got to know him and his great personality. We shared in his love for music. He's at peace now

“ I was fortunate to work with Dale for twenty years at Bartlett & Co. He was brilliant and generous and very successful. Through all his health challenges, he remained so positive. He became a brother to me and I will greatly miss him. Now he's at peace. May God bless his family always.

“ Dale was suffering with many things for years. There was only one Dale Howard. It's very sad when you lose somebody you've known since 4th grade doesn't matter how often you got together. I watched his kids grow up and he watched mine. We shared holidays together. We were both in the Bartlett Bldg so I saw him almost everyday. He was very very lucky he married Margaret. He'll be missed .
