“ I shall miss you Beth! Truly, one of a kind! So much fun! When Beth was moving from Oakbrook after her garage sales, I was driving past her condo. I stopped, she was in the open garage cleaning. I told her I was sorry I missed her sales. She said, "come in, see if you want anything left?" I took a look around and then she started asking me if I needed this or that. Finally she asked if i wanted a paint by number, big The Last Supper canvas. In the box, never been used. "I never got around to it," she said! I laughed and thought; I can give this to my cousins family for Easter! Then she and I laughed more as I wondered what a Last Supper item was doing in the garage of a Jewish woman's condo. I just adored your spirit, charm, and truly caring ways! Thank you Beth!

“ So very sorry for your loss. I'm sure many others will agree, you could never forget meeting Beth. My initial encounter was attending the Wynds HOA meeting, which led to several years of working with her on the board to help improve the community. Strong willed with a voice to be reckoned with, we became buddies early on. She'd let you know if you were wrong, but I think because I would return the favor we became what I considered friends. We rarely had a conversation without a laugh before parting ways. Farewell and thank you for your advice my ole' friend, I'm grateful you're not suffering.

David and Jeffrey,

I am so sorry for your loss. Beth was special, I loved and respected her like she was my sister.

I have many memories of Beth. They bring a smile to my face when I think of her. Sunday cook outs in Union with our families. Dinners out especially in Northern Kentucky. Seeing her at "the needle point shop with Barbara and my wife. Being with her at the antique markets and watching her "wheel and deal" on a special jewelry purchase.

But the best times with Beth was just talking about our children and grandchildren. Beth made David , Jeffrey and their families the center of her world.

I will miss Beth very much. But I will have memories of Beth for my lifetime.

Rest in peace my special lady friend.
