“ Both Tidg and her beloved mother, Ruth, were na’shay chayil. While I was an HUC student in the ‘60s, Ruth was both resident Matron and “babysitter” to many undergrads. Later Tidg and Phil would carry on that tradition. Both Ruth and Tidg did so with honor, grace, a great sense of humor, and more than a little patience. Their memories are and will remain a blessing to all who knew them.
