“ In 2002, I began my career at Pro Seniors as the Volunteer Coordinator of a new program, Ohio SMP (Senior Medicare Patrol). As with any new program there was a lot of work to be done to get the program up and running. As Volunteer Coordinator, my focus was to produce a training manual so we could recruit and train volunteers to educate older adults how to stay safe from health care fraud. This entailed a lot of grunt work, ie typing. No, there was no digital copy to ease the production of the necessary information. During this time, I was fairly miserable and forgot I had a sense of humor. Then I met David, one of our first volunteers. As he sang and danced through the halls of Pro Seniors, I laughed delightedly and found the true joy in my job: working with the smart, talented, dedicated and often humorous volunteers that I got to work with over the years . I often thanked David for being the first to bring me joy and offer a distraction from my typing doldrums. Yes, he was one of a kind: great humor, great heart!

“ David worked with me as a volunteer at the Ohio SMP Project at Pro Seniors for many years. We also had a very special connection since he had worked alongside my father as a Special Agent with the FBI!

David loved speaking about our Medicare Fraud Project and was truly an outstanding presenter! Not only did he present well but the humor in his presentations was much applauded by his audiences wherever he went! God bless him for his wonderful years of service to so many! May he rest in paradise!

Sincerely, Anne C. Fredrickson

“ David came into my life in 1993 as a volunteer to read to me anything that I couldn't. Over time, he was like a brother, father, and best girlfriend (which is one label he used to assign to himself.) spending that one on one time every week for so many years, you get to know a person pretty deeply, and what I learned about David was that he loved his family, loved life, was kinder than anyone on the planet, never believed he was doing enough for others, and knew better than most of us how to dance, sing, joke, and cherish every joy and sorrow life delivers. Rest in peace, David; like your name, you have been beloved.--Deborah Kendrick

“ I spent 22 years in the FBI because Dave took a special interest in me. In December, 1981 at the age of 34.5 I submitted my application to the Cincinnati Division (my first attempt in 1973 went nowhere because there was a federal hiring freeze). Dave called me to tell me that my app was going to be a challenge because I was 6 months from the age 35 cutoff. He said he would do his best to expedite my case but couldn't make any promises, and after his many calls and followups to FBIHQ, I was sworn in two days before my 35th birthday (which I celebrated at Quantico). Because of Dave, I was able to realize a life-long dream to be an FBI Special Agent which I have never regretted. Dave will always have a special place in my heart! Rest in peace, my friend!

“ We remember Dave's retirement party and having breakfast the next morning with his family at their house. Yes, he was a comedian, but also one of the nicest people you would ever meet. Rest in peace Dave.
