“ Yesterday I went by your place and got out to sit by the water. It was a sad day, but then I look to my left and there was a big sandhill crane preening just a few feet away. I'd like to take that as a good sign. I really love you and miss you.

“ I just heard of Debbie's passing. My condolences to those that loved her. I worked with Debbie for many years, and I'll probably be reminded of her every time I see a rabbit. She was a kind soul and extended her friendship to others easily. RIP Debbie.

She'll always be a difficult Lab Tech to forget. I hope she'll find peace.

I think about you all the time. I miss you so. Thank you for making me a better optician.
