“ Ann
I was just browsing Weil. Weird thing to do, but maybe not when you're out of town and lose touch, and read about your sister. I'm so sorry to hear this. May her memory be for a blessing. I hope you're well.

“Hi Lenny, you may not remember me, but many... many... years ago, my mom, Estelle, was friends with your grandmother. You, your mom and Una would come to our house on occasion for dinner and we would go to your apartment.... I think in Williamsburg. I recall how close you, your mom and grandmother were to each other. I always admired that connection as it was so different from my experience growing up with just my mom. Your home was full of laughter, conversation, and what seemed to always be a celebration of each other. Even now... so many decades later... I still have fond memories of conversations in your home.

My condolences to you and your family.

*Hi David! I do remember you! Grandma Una and I used to come over to your house all the time! I specifically remember an igloo you built in your front yard. I thought you were THE COOLEST!
Thanks so much for reaching out and thinking of us!
Sincerely,
Leni*
