“ I cannot adequately express both the shock and the grief of discovering your passing. Over a half century of friendship, experiences and brotherhood. The late night discussion sessions, the impromptu road trips, the laughter, the dinners at Denny's with mutual friends. I am so happy you had the opportunity to meet my wife and family so many years after we both left Milwaukee and settled in different regions. Your friendship has been a cherished blessing. God Bless you and your loved ones.

“ To my friend Ely,

It's hard to believe you are gone, Ely. Our friendship lasted an incredible 50 years. We met in school, at John Marshall Jr/Sr High School, Go Eagles! and once we graduated in 1976, we hung out a lot together with our buddy Bruce. We bowled in leagues. We went to movies like the Rocky Horror Picture Show at the Oriental Theatre at midnight. We would eat at Country Kitchen late at night and play tunes on the mini jukebox found in each booth. We hung out at Northridge Mall where your name was displayed at Farrell's Ice Cream Parlor (until the mall closed) for having eaten their biggest dish of ice cream in the shortest amount of time. We played board games late into the wee hours, like the car selling game, Dealers Choice, which became a favorite of ours. I even still have mine. They were such good times.

Then life moved on and you made the decision to go to Cincinnati where you met Eva. You asked me to be your best man. I gladly accepted. I just looked at my photographs from that day. May I say that you looked good in your tuxedo.

We didn't see as much of one another after that because of work, family, and distance but we occasionally crossed paths for short visits or a chat on the phone. I wish we could have had more fun times together like we did in the those years past. I will still visit you though as your final resting place is incredibly only a few blocks from my home.

I enjoyed your sense of humor and your laughter and your friendship, Ely. I will always remember you with great fondness and respect.

My condolences to your wife, your daughters, your family, and your friends. All of them will miss you dearly of that I have no doubt. May our dear God in Heaven bless and keep you Ely until we meet again. I will miss you my friend. God bless you. 💔
