“ Evelyn was a bright light in OMA (Opening Minds through Art) where she volunteered since the day she moved into Cedar Village. She loved her partners (other Cedar Village residents who are living with dementia) and patiently facilitated their creative expression and she loved the artwork they created. We have been coming to Cedar Village weekly for 12 years with Miami University and University of Cincinnati students but had to stop due to the pandemic. It was such a pleasure to see Evelyn every Friday morning, beaming and ready to serve others. She is beautiful inside and outside and she will be missed by all of us in OMA. I have posted a couple of Evelyn's photos during OMA, taken in 2018 and 2019.

“ I go to know Evelyn this past summer, as rabbinic intern at Cedar Village. I spent time speaking with her by phone. She came across as energetic and very caring about the people around her. She told me many stories about her involvement in Hadassah. My favorite quote from those conversations was, “The hardest thing about being retired is not getting to do work”.
May her memory be for a blessing.
