“ Janet was my oldest friend. Our mothers were playing cards (in Los Angeles) when my mom went into labor with me. Janet was born 2 weeks later. We were named at the same Shabbat service a few weeks later.

We grew up together through high school. I somehow wound up in Cincinnati (Montgomery) to live as did she when she married Jimmy, a native Cincinnati. It was fun to renew our friendship.

Janet was always a delightful person, was very smart, and her family was great. Our families growing up were friends in Arcadia, California. She made a positive impact on this world and she will be forever remembered,

“ My heart goes out to Jimmy. The loss of Janet leaves a empty place in our neighborhood. She will be sorely missed.

“ I was saddened to hear that Janet passed from this life to another. Throughout her career she was dearly loved by all of the students with whom she worked. She was their "den mother" and she mothered each one lovingly. Although Jimmie and Janet did not have children of their Janet's student were those children to her. She was a great clinical supervisor, teacher, mentor to all. Her contributions to the lives of the program, and to her students live on. She will be missed.

I second all the kudos for Janet as a student supervisor in Audiology in UC. She was a consummate colleague and a down the hall suite mate. Plus she had great stories about being a classmate of UCLA famed men's basketball players.

We have been a close friend of Janet since from the first day that we met her. Jimmy was in my wife and my wedding and has been as close a friend as could have. Janet put up with listening to the many stories and memories that Jimmy and I had while single younger men These stories were repeated every time we were together and we all laughed each time . Janet was there for us the day that our son Jacob was born and helped us realize that Jacob had great hearing . She was beautiful and fun and I always loved calling her home and hearing her messages on the taped answering as each was always different. Our hearts and love are with Jimmy . Janet will be missed and our memories are fun and loving. love Dinah and Mark Woloshin
