I remember Neal from the time I interacted with him at the New York Times. He was always pleasant and professional and likable. I'm sorry for your loss.

Susan & Adam,
Although it has been many years since we spent time together, I will never forget our bridge nights and spending time in the courtyard at Williamsburg with our kids.

My thoughts and prayers are with you during this difficult time.

...Neil, Aaron Barr and yours truly history goes back over 50 years. I met the boys at their retail company the New York Times clothing store on Calhoun Street. As I recall, Aaron did the buying and Neal ran the overall day to day business. They were the sweetest and most dedicated young businessmen I had ever met! What a joy assisting them in their advertising and marketing efforts! I am so sad to hear of Neal's passing. I will forever remember Neal with total respect and appreciation. May he find his passing easily knowing so many of us left behind love him. My most sincere condolences to the family. All my best, Peter Eden.
