“ Phyllis was a guest speaker at the sisterhood of Adath Israel synagogue. We all knew how she was a highly rated very successful business woman " in a man's world." She smiled warmly and humbly said that she attributes her success to the fact when the men wanted something typed she simply said " I don't know how to type". We all laughed knowing there was so much more to it than that.

Her success in the business world was before her time.

“ *Dear Charlie and Amy:
I mourn the passing of your mother. She led our community with graciousness and humanity. She was a mensch, a mentor, and a role model. Most importantly she loved her family. Whenever I asked about her granddaughters, a wide smile would cross her face.*

I will miss her.
