Rosie and I went to a grade school together called Trinity at the time now it is called linden groove .. Rosie was a couple years behind me at Trinity so we did not come in contact often ..

Fast forward many years latter Rosie and I reunite at a day program called star fire .. through the 3 or 4 years we both were involved in star fire Rosie and I become close friends ..

And even after star fire we kept in touch and remained good friends . I have countless memories with Rosie through out the years.

I'll share a couple of my favorite memories with her

One of them was a birthday party she had at a hotel and we stayed the night and had pizza and swam and just had girl time.

Another favorite memory with Rosie we going to the reds game with her Rosie loved the reds

And the most recent memory I have with Rosie is about 4 months ago Rosie called me and asked me if I wanted to go to a cooking class with her my first response was no because I had a long day but then I called her back and said I'll go. And I'm so glad I did Rosie and I had a great time together made fried fish and and a salad

That was the last time I saw Rosie

Rosie left a huge impact on my life in so many incredible ways and for that I am forever grateful and blessed. 💜

Dearest Rosie, my heart is broken. I know you will not want me to be sad for long but, it will take time before I will not cry when I think of you. I will get Graeter's and think of you. We, your family and friends will always remember you and your love for life.

We will always remember Rosie as a valuable member of our research team at the Ohio State University Nisonger Center. Rosie contributed to our studies about the health and function of people with intellectual disability for more than six years. We could always count on Rosie. She always provided valuable feedback in a constructive, friendly, and professional way. For this and many other reasons, Rosie will be missed. May her memory be a blessing.

“ Rosie was a dedicated and valuable member of our team. She always shared her input and provided important ideas and insights to guide our project. I recently had a chance to present our work together at the Synergy Conference. She spoke about the importance of listening to individuals with disabilities in healthcare settings and including partners with lived disability experience on research teams. She shared her own story of overcoming challenges to achieve empowerment and independence, which inspired others to share their stories. I will miss her shining spirit and extend my deepest condolences to her family. May her memory be for a blessing.

“ Rosie was a joy to know - whenever we texted she has something upbeat to say. But everyone reading this knows that. What you may not know was that she was a leader and an example for countless people. From when she taught a self determination class while in guardianship to her successful fight to win back her rights, Rosie's life and life force will echo for years and people to come!

“ Rosie and I met 10-12 years ago and became fast close friends. We had so many special adventures. Lots of Moriah Pie, one time I snuck, Baby, my new puppy into Longhorn's to surprise her after dinner by taking him out of my coat pocket, we went to a hockey game on dog night, Kings Island, Reds game, bought matching tee shirts, went to the nursing home one night and cleaned/organized my mom's closet, we went to fancy dinners and hung out and did nothing and always had fun. Almost everyone in Norwood had to know Rosie. I love you Rosie. Thanks for loving and caring about me. You always made me feel special!! 🥰💕

“ How can I even put into words this unexplained and tremendous loss. Rosie is my heart. She is all of the best a person has to offer. Rosie is pure of heart and she always lifted me up when I was with her My children called her the 6th Hoffman sibling. For me she was the little Sister I never had. She was my twin. We chatted or text several times every single Day. We had our plans for December. I was already searching for the best Chanukah gift. In purple. I dont know how I will go on without my twin. Rosie , you should be here. I love you forever and always 💜

To Rosie's parents, family and friends,

We are deeply saddened to learn of the passing of dear Rosie, whom we met at the All Things Kabuki family gathering in 2019. Rosie was a kind, gentle and loving person, it was simply impossible not to notice her sparkling smile and infectious happy personality.

Our deepest sympathies to her whole family and friends. The greater community of kabuki families is deeply saddened by the loss of our kabuki sister. We send you a big compassionate hug and all our love.

We love you Rosie, and we will never forget you!
