“ I am so sad to hear about Sherri. We were friends back in the 80's when all of our kids were little. Our husbands grew up together and were in each others wedding. Sherri and I lost touch over the years but found each other again on FaceBook. We planned on meeting for dinner but it never happened. I just saw her birthday was coming up and went to write her and discovered she had passed away. She talked a lot about how much she loved her children and Grandkids. She truly was a great person. Again, I am so sorry to hear about her passing. God bless you all.

“ Sherri was one of the first people I met back in the day and told me she would always be my work Mom and look out for me. She did that but also helped keep things fun and make us all laugh. Rest in peace Sherri and my sincere condolences to your family.

“ Ashley, Rian, Eric and family,
I'm sorry for your loss. Sherri and I worked and traveled together for several years. She was a great friend, a joy to work with and an all around sweet person. She will be missed by all who were lucky enough to know her.

“ Sherri - tough, adventurous, funny, a divine smartass in the best possible way. I enjoyed NOT sharing birthdays with you. We were a united front on the numbers game. Your friendship meant so much to me during my odd mid-life, mid-career transition into a whole new scary space. You gave me peace through humor, kindness and the occasional little naughtiness. I've always appreciated you. You will always have a big place in my heart. I hope you are now at peace. You fought hard. Peace to Rian, Ashley, Eric and all the littles.

“ Eric, Ashley, Rian and Family. So sorry for your loss. Sherri will be missed by a lot of people, especially me and Paul. Sherri and I were not only co-workers, but best friends. Paul will miss all the conversations they had while she was driving to her destination - wherever that would be, and miss his casino buddy. What we loved most is that things were never dull with Sherri around. Her sense of humor and her presence made for an enjoyable time whatever we were doing. She will always be with us through the great memories we have. RIP Sherri.

“ My deepest condolences to all of Sherri's family. Sherri was such a fun co-worker that always told it like it was and didn't hesitate to say what was on her mind. You can see how much she loved her family as she talked about them often and always had a picture to share. Her smile, witty comments and love of Bret Michaels will be missed by many.
