“ I saw an Afro Latino man weaving hats out of palm tree leaves recently & I thought of my father doing the same years ago on vacation. Spencer, Dad, was industrious and full of life and he would have been right at home picking up this craft once again..

He once told me he thought of himself as a case of arrested development.

I think he was a work in progress and I think he would have really liked his funeral.

Thanks to all his friends & family who showed up &/or sent notes and helped out, new friends and old, very kind. Thanks to his Granddaughter Ava for joining us live from Israel, he loved you very much. Special thanks to my sister Elysha for all of her efforts.

Rest in peace dad; may you rest in peace, there aren't going to be any more like you any time soon,, Howard..

“ Spence my good guy and friend. Who introduce me to humus that he made. It was good. It was not what he left for us but left in us. Will miss and remember you at the Flying Pig water stop manned by the Avondale Running Club. Your Buddy (Home at last). Gillis Bowden

“ Spencer was a passionate and driving force in the Avondale Running Club. He never hesitated to volunteer for our projects, share a story, instigate a vigorous debate, offer a solution for our challenges and be a good friend. We will miss his presence among us.

“ Spencer and I have been friends for some 45 years. I met him when we both lived in Paddock Hills. We were sidewalk friends. We often saw each other when he would walk by my house. Our exchanges were cordial. Some ten years later I moved to North Avondale and out walks Spencer! Now our friendship became stronger and we would relate more and more. If you can believe it, we even belonged to the same swim club!

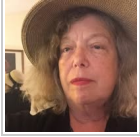

Fast track to 2005 and I moved back to Paddock Hills near where Spencer moved as well. I began helping him with building repairs and maintenance. He would drive by my place and we would have coffee and talk about the world. He bought the home on Spring House and I was able to help him keep that place alive. I retired in 2020 and our relationship grew closer. We shared our family and relationship stories over coffee in the kitchen. We could talk about everything and we learned how opposite our politics and world views were. We soon learned we would never come to agreement but had oh so much fun.

Spence was around so much he met and became friends with my girl friend (now wife) Clarice. We went to dinner several times at Long Horn (he had a gift card of course). Spence was to come to our wedding March 8, 2025 and sit with Clarice and me at our reception. Spence was to ill to come. I sent him dozens of pictures through out the evening.

We had so much and I left out a lot but Spence gave me a word of advice to live out my life "Do as I say not as I did. Love your new wife with romance and spontaneity".

I will miss our time but I know Heaven will be a little more jovial with your spirit there.

“ Spencer was my housemate and my friend. He was a good cook, made dynamite steaks and good ceasar salad. He was friendly, loved Judaism, and loved the North Avondale community. He was my go to when trees fell on my property and also helped with snow removal. I loved Spencer, he was my dear friend.
