“ My thoughts and prayers to all of Stan’s family and friends. Stan was actually my brother Mark Hiudt’s age and good friend. Stan and I were on the JCC Board together and we co-chaired the JCC DAY OF FUN together two years in a row! He was a great guy...a real mensch! I have great memories of working with Stan. I am so sad to hear of his passing . May he Rest In Peace 🙏❤️

“ Stan was one of the first friendly faces we met when we moved into Peppermill Farms, and for the next 30 years, he was still smiling, no matter what, as he'd walk by our yard or we'd see each other in the park. A dear friend to the Jewish community, his restoration of Isaac M Wise Plum Street Temple is a gift to us all. He was practical, talented, kind and endearing. His work was always top quality, whether it was renovating a national treasure or evaluating the safety of a backyard tree house: thanks to Stan our children's play haven is safe and city-approved! Stan was a man of his word. We treasure our memories with him, whether working together to bring natural gas into the neighborhood, or hiring him to secure a zoning variance, or downing papaya enzymes by teh campfire after eating too much during a weekend at his lake house. Stan adored his daughters and grandchildren, and loved Elaine's orchids. My greatest thanks to Stan was the profound expression of gratitude he showed my son in response to my son's simple act of kindness. Through his deeply sincere response, Stan made a lasting impression about gratitude expressed. For that, of all the many gifts Stan left us, I am the most grateful. May his memory be a blessing.

“ So sorry to hear of Stan's passing. Stan was a student of mine in the architecture program at the University of Cincinnati, and we got to be friendly and kept in touch after he graduated. We also worked together on various projects for Wise Temple in more recent years. This is truly a loss!

My thoughts are now with his family. He will be missed!

“ Stan and I grew up about a half a block from each other in Roselawn. We both had a backyard basketball hoop and played hours on end, well into the night. In the summers softball and days at the Jewish Center took up most of our time. I went on a few fishing outings with him, reluctantly, although he always made them fun. His mom let us play cards in his house. I always felt welcome, almost like it was a second family to me. In college he and his father spent hours reworking the building the AEPi House was to be.

Although our careers sent us on separate paths, and we lost touch, his memory still makes me smile.

I'll miss you Stan.

“ stan and i were friends and in the same class at woodward. what i most recall is the smile on his face, and his positive manner. i have no recollection he ever said anything negative about anyone---even during hours of heated hoops! losing him hurts.
