“ I had the opportunity to interact with Stanley on a couple of occasions when spending time at the Kramer/Elfenbaum home. It was so special hearing his stories about his beloved wife and also witnessing his love of jazz ( which he showed me on YouTube!). May his memory be a blessing .

“ Stan was such a good friend to our family. I really appreciated your parents inviting my dad over to join your Passover dinners after my mom passed away. My parents had great times traveling with him and your mom.

“ How do I select a single memory in my 53years Of friendship with Stan. Stan was more than a friend, we were family. That goes for Miriam and the entire Elfenbaum family. Stan is gone but he will remain in my thoughts forever.

“ How many meals at 649 Hilltop Lane during our high school years followed the same script? Several of Michael's USY friends would descend from other cities, Mama Elf would whip up a complete meal on the spot, conversation around the table would be lively and loud...and Dr. Elf would say nothing. After dinner, we'd find him in the living room sitting in his Eames chair watching TV, having navigated the MASSIVE cable remote, which appears to have been designed by NASA. And Dr. Elf said nothing.

He was a man who was content in his environment. Content to see the interactions around his dinner table, content to listen as Mama Elf carried the conversation, and content to interact with others on his own terms.

He was totally present. He listened. He cared. He appreciated. He just left most of the speaking to others. When he DID speak, it's because he had something to say, and something worth hearing.

And the quality of the kids and grandkids he has now left behind speaks volumes for him.
