“ I was a nurse at Booth Hospital in Covington from 1969 until they moved to Florence in the '80's, so I knew your dad for many years. I just want you to know that he was a kind and gentle man who treated his patients, their families, and the staff with dignity and respect. In all those years, I never heard him raise his voice in anger or be critical or judgmental towards anyone. His warm smile was his trademark. Please accept my deepest sympathy on your loss. You should be proud to have a father with such integrity.

“ When I think back on your Dad, what I remember is his smile and his generous spirit and love. How he would drive to Adams Co. and spent the day helping Stuart cut firewood for the winter. Whenever I would run into him and Faith, they both greeted me with smiles, handshakes, and hugs. God bless and RIP.
